

Rosen Method Foundation and the Marion Rosen Film Project

Announcing the Release of Three New Private Bodywork Sessions with Marion Rosen

Three Private Sessions DVDs #3,#4, and #5 in the Private Sessions series

Completely new professionally filmed material never before released

Available for your film library, for training, and for refreshing your understanding of the core elements of Rosen Method, shown by the Founder in the intimacy of full hour private sessions filmed in 2009.

New Releases in the Private Sessions Series

Each of these filmed private sessions of Rosen Method given by Marion illustrate important principles of her knowledge and skill, showing the viewer exactly how Marion approaches and delivers bodywork. All three of these clients are new and have never been worked on by Marion before, so she is not coming to these sessions with any previous information or acquaintance with the clients.

In Private Session #3, Marion demonstrates a classic Rosen Method treatment, starting with a description of the female client's holding, connecting with muscle tension and the breath through her touch, exploring what the tension is about with the client, and maintaining active verbal contact throughout the session.

Private Session #4 is different, because the female client does not speak throughout the session until the very end, yet Marion gets connected and provides deep support, somatically and verbally, in the midst of the client's silence.

In Private Session #5 Marion shows her capacity to discern when the male client is "doing" his breath and crying inauthentically. She helps him begin to sense how it feels when the natural breath is allowed, the breath without effort. She shows her perception of what is happening in the session when apparent emotions are not coming from the inside, using her phrase "that's not it," in a manner that is supportive and helps him begin to open through humor and trust.
